PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We have been travelling around the state to promote the 66th Houston Hoedown. May started with a trip to the Mid-Tex Festival in Georgetown. The Austin Square and Round Dance Association (ASRDA) is the home base for our Cuers, Jerry and Lucy Pate. We danced to them on Friday night. The TSFSRD Officers were in attendance, and we renewed many friendships from across Texas.

Two weeks later, we moved on to Fredericksburg for the Hill Country Happenin'. Our Caller, Jerry Story, and our Cuers, Jerry and Lucy Pate, were featured at this Plus weekend. We saw many Houston dancers there, and many other familiar faces from other parts of the state.

Our next out-of-town trip will be the 52nd Texas State Festival in June. We will be arriving in Tyler on Thursday in time for the Trail End Dance. Friday afternoon will find us in Round Dance Room. Saturday come see us in the Style Show. Make sure to stop by the Education tables to see the HSRDC display. Sunday morning will be the TSFSRD Business Meeting before we head home.

The Texas State Festival advance registration deadline is May 15th. We hope to see everyone in Tyler from June 12th to June 15th. Look for a listing of the events in this newsletter.

We hope to C U Round in a Square,

Jerry & Linda Edwards

Square dancing and Math? Read the following blog post from KQED news reporter....

Abstract Math Concepts Spring to Life at UC Square Dancing Club

By Samantha Clark

Daniel Levine and a couple of dozen fellow students are swinging through a classroom at UC Berkeley to a remixed Rihanna song. The lyrics are telling them to “do si do” and “allemande left.”

Finals and graduations are wrapping up this week, but this small group of students has found a way to take a break from all that stress: square dancing.

But no one is wearing petticoats and cowboy boots here. It’s hoodies and sandals.

The appeal to science students and young tech workers is that math concepts take shape in the dance patterns. Square dancing incorporates permutations, fractions and operators, to name a few.

Levine, 23, founded this square dance class last fall after starting his graduate work in UC Berkeley’s chemistry department. When he came here from MIT, where he learned to square dance in his senior year, he saw an opportunity.

“It’s like ‘Oh look! It’s that abstract algebra that I learned, but not abstract because people are dancing now,’” Levine said. “For me, (math is) more interesting to see. I’m just a giant nerd, and I keep trying to relate square dancing to what I do.”

Math and puzzle people see square dancing as similar to solving a Rubik’s Cube — challenging and calculative. Eight dancers start and end in the same position, but they don’t know how they’ll find their way home. There’s a near infinite number of ways to get there. They have a split second to recall one of hundreds of dance moves, which a caller dictates.

“It’s always exciting to see what new twist might get thrown your way in the process,” said Greg Ford, a computer engineer at IBM.

That’s what interests Levine, making cool and intricate patterns without having to actually practice a sequence of calls. He convinced his lab partner, David Litt, to join, selling him on the mathematical challenge.

Square dancing incorporates permutations, fractions and operators, to name just a few.

“He said every square has inversion symmetry,” Litt said. “If you look into group theory, which we do in a lot of organic chemistry, there’s some molecules that have inversion symmetry where you invert the points and you’ll get the same shape. I thought that was pretty cool, and I always look for that when I’m dancing.”

Fellow MIT alumna Risha Mars helps the students get the hang of it. She is a software engineer at Twitter who’s often out on the dance floor four nights a week at different square dance clubs.

“Square dancing is all I do,” Mars said. “I like it because it’s like a giant math problem.”

She even studies the dance calls.

“I have little checkers to push around to test myself whether I know what the call is going to be, and sometimes I practice with my friends if it’s a call I don’t understand,” she said.

Mars and Levine met at MIT’s huge square dance club, Tech Squares — only a handful of universities have clubs or classes. After they both moved to the Bay Area, they joined Stanford Quads in Palo Alto. The two are unofficial sister clubs, emphasizing technical rigor. They both focus on the definitions and concepts of the dance calls. Many of the folks in Stanford Quads are programmers, engineers and math teachers.

“I enjoy learning it,” said Jenna Caldwell, a Stanford University biochemistry graduate student. “It’s totally different from what I do all day, but I still get to use my brain. It’s still sort of puzzle-solving.”

Many in the UC Berkeley group say they’re now ready to take on more challenging calls. They’ll do that this summer in the newly formed club, called the Golden Squares.

Go for the Gold!

The Texas State Federation of Square and Round Dancers offers a visitation incentive to dancers who travel from their home district to dance at an association dance at another Texas District and for attending the state meetings and festival. Houston can win up to $1000.00 dollars in the TSFSRD Go For The Gold Program by attending dances in other districts and attending state federation business meetings. We also receive points for each new dancer that pre-registers for the state festival. If any four dancers from Houston attend dances or meetings outside Houston we qualify for points. If you attend any district dance please notify your district director or any council officer so we can get credit.

TROUBLESHOOTING TIPS

If you know of someone having problems downloading or viewing the on-line WHERE 'N WHEN, please share these troubleshooting tips with them. One of the following options should work:

1. Save the file to your computer. Right click the link on the web page. Click Save Target As.....then choose a location that you will remember such as your desktop. Open the saved file.
2. Open the file directly in the reader. Open Acrobat Reader, click Edit, Preferences, Internet and deselect the option to open in browser.
3. Adobe Reader and Internet Explorer do not always play well together. Download Mozilla Firefox or Google Chrome and use that as your browser.
4. Change the security settings in Adobe Reader to deselect enhanced security (Edit, Preferences, Security, deselect Enable Enhanced Security).
5. Use another PDF reader, such as Foxit at www.Foxitsoftware.com.

These issues are not uncommon and are documented in Adobe forums. If none of these tips work, please e-mail wherenwhen@outlook.com and we will e-mail you the file.
